For its 15th anniversary 43 antique dealers and art galleries from ancient to contemporary art invite you to an open house walk from gallery to gallery in Le Sablon in Brussels, known as the oldest most reliable art market district in the capital city.

Special selection of high-quality works of art and themed exhibitions will be presented during these 3 days open house event.

All the participants are willing to share their expertise and knowledge of their own specialty with the collectors and art lovers, but also to stimulate their collegiality for the good of the local art market, as it is important and crucial to maintain and adapt our legendary activity during these singular times.

In accordance with the Belgian Covid 19 sanitary instructions, each gallery participating will arrange the necessary measures to make sure they preserve both their visitors and their staff at their own discretion.

About Brussels Art Square

Since 2006 the Brussels non-profit organisation Brussels Art Square unites the art and antiques dealers from the Sablon neighbourhood, which since the end of the Second World War grew to the Belgian art and antique epicentre. In addition to the annual Open House, the organisation encourages the interests of the galleries throughout the year. It promotes the Sablon nationally and internationally as a cultural quarter, which thanks its charms to its typical village character.
